The tekomp fair – along with the tcworld conference organized in parallel in English – is the biggest and by far the most popular event for technical communication world-wide.

It is the must-attend event for the entire field of technical communication. Exhibitors, whether long established in the market or innovative newcomers, appreciate the high quality of the professional audience: from technical writers, employees from the industry, software companies or service providers such as translation bureaus and consulting companies to publishers, printers or associations.

The increasingly international flavor with a continuously growing proportion of overseas visitors has opened up access to new markets. In 2024 about 115 exhibitors from 15 countries created the perfect atmosphere for effective networking and were successful in initiating business relationships.

Do you want to provide insights into the most recent technical developments to a wide audience? Are you looking for an exchange with experts? Use the manifold possibilities as an exhibitor to present your company and your products in step with actual practice.

Tradition and innovation go hand in hand in Stuttgart and its surrounding region to create an exciting interplay. As a region known for its strong economy and scientific prowess, with a wide range of cultural, leisure and recreational activities on offer, Stuttgart is an ideal and inspirational event location.

This vibrant metropolis in the South of Germany is in season all year round. Stuttgart is varied and inspirational, endearing and unique, tradition-conscious yet full of surprises, relaxing and stimulating. Discover this fascinating city and its surrounding region!

You can look forward to a city with many faces: Stuttgart enralls its visitors with its lively art and culture scene, excels with masterpieces of historical and modern architecture, hosts international sporting events, celebrates merry festivals and colorful markets, offers world-class shopping and a wealth of other unforgettable options. Stuttgart – the holder of the “City with the Highest Quality of Life” award – combines a high-class lifestyle with an atmosphere of welcoming hospitality, and innovative economic strength paired with a high recreational value.

Stages of world renown... with Stuttgart’s State Theaters the region is home to the world’s largest tripartite theater. Its ballet has enjoyed international acclaim ever since the days of John Cranko and Marcia Haydée, and Stuttgart State Opera has been awarded the coveted title of “Opera House of the Year” many times.

Experience Stuttgart

Architectural highlights and outstanding museums together create a unique symbiosis in Stuttgart. The glass cube of the New Museum of Art provides not only interesting insights into the municipal art collections but also wonderful views over the city.

Stuttgart, the cradle of mobility. It was here, in a little workshop, that Wilhelm Maybach and Gottlieb Daimler together invented one of the very first automobiles, and today the city boasts two of the world's most magnificent automobile museums. This is still the site of the main production plants of both Mercedes-Benz and Porsche today, and the people here feel a close bond with the history and tradition of these two global concerns. The spectacular double-helix construction of the Mercedes-Benz Museum attracts both automobile and architecture enthusiasts from all corners of the globe, while at the new Porsche Museum the Zuffenhausen sports car specialists display their legendary mobile icons in bold architecture and a sophisticated ambience.

The combination of cosmopolitan flair and green oases makes Stuttgart a city of delightful contrasts. Extensive parks in the heart of town and idyllic vineyards directly opposite the main railway station provide peace and relaxation. Killesberg Hill Park and the "Wilhelma" – the only zoological and botanical gardens of their kind in the world – invite you to relax and explore. And no fewer than three mineral spas, fed by the most prolific mineral springs in Western Europe, are guaranteed to promote health and well-being.

Merry festivals with typical Swabian "gemütlichkeit" in a stylish setting are places for celebration, enjoyment and discovery. There's the lively "Stuttgart Spring Festival", the elegant "Summer Festival" on warm August evenings, the "Stuttgart Wine Festival" in late summer with its attractively decorated arbors, or the traditional "Stuttgart Christmas Market" in the heart of town. Once you've experienced the hospitality and the exuberant atmosphere of Stuttgart's festivals and markets, you'll want to return time and again.
